Prospectus of Christian Private School Malmesbury

Welcome to CPM. Our friendliness and hospitality will make you feel right at home. The Malmesbury Christian Private School is a parallel-medium private school with a Christian ethos. The development of each child, academically and holistically, is our focus. We also offer a variety of sporting and cultural events. We are known for high academic standards, top-quality teachers, and quality individual instruction, made possible by our smaller class sizes.

History of CPM

The possibility of starting a private school in Malmesbury was investigated by individuals as early as 1996, due to the concern that large classes in the government schools hampered quality teaching. On 19 January 1999, the Christian Private School Malmesbury opened its doors, boasting nine learners and three teachers. We are thankful to report that we are still growing in learners every year.

The new teaching dispensation has indeed set new challenges to our community and it is with sincere gratitude that we affirm that the need for alternative education options continues to grow and that our school is going from strength to strength. In 2005, the school expanded with the extension of a Grade R class and in 2011, the playschool Jelly Tots, opened its doors for 3 — 5 year olds.

Today we are proud to have about 236 learners and 22 teachers at the school. Waldo Cloete is our current principal.

Vision and Mission

General Objectives

CPM believes in the child as a total being, the sum total of body, mind and spirit. Punctuality, loyalty, perseverance and politeness will always be maintained.

Objectives

The school aims at:

1. preparing its learners for life: academically, culturally and physically;
2. providing quality education;
3. pursuing Christian principles with Jesus Christ as the only Saviour;
4. keeping class numbers low;
5. ensuring a modern technological impact and
6. not discriminating on the grounds of race, language and gender.

Mission

The school binds itself to:

1. affordable, quality tuition whereby, through a high degree of individual attention it can lead its learners to become fully-fledged citizens with a good self-image;
2. creating a happy, secure and safe environment for the child and
3. to cultivate Christian values and beliefs as prescribed in the Bible.

Basic Principles

1. Respect for our Creator and His Creation
2. Respect for oneself
3. Respect for our fellow-beings and our environment.

Curriculum

The National Curriculum is taught from Grade 1 to Grade 7.

Home Language and First Additional Language

Life Skills

Natural Sciences and Technology

Social Sciences

Mathematics

Tests and Examinations (Grade 4 to 7)

During the first and third terms, pupils' marks are assessed by means of a test series. In the second and fourth terms they write formal examinations. In this way we try to equip the learners with the skills needed to master examinations. The Grade 4's are also exposed to examinations, but to a lesser extent.
